You And I

Chris Norman

You're the air that I breathe You're the heart on my sleeve You're my life forever and ever

You're the blood in my veins You're my shelter when it rains You're my soul

'Cos when you love someone Half as much as I love you Yeah when you need someone Nothing matters without you

You and I Baby to love each other quite so much is frightening As years go by Baby the time we shared together went like lightning And it's do or die As long as we stay together we will go on fighting Baby you know, you know, the world can be exciting Oh, oh, for you and I

You're the sun in my sky You're the shoulder where I cry You are mine and it's getting better

You're the comfort that I seek You're the power if I'm weak But baby I'm strong

'Cos when you love someone Half as much as I love you Yeah when you need someone Nothing matters without you

You and I Baby to love each other quite so much is frightening As years go by Baby the time we shared together went like lightning And it's do or die As long as we stay together we will go on fighting Baby you know, you know, the world can be exciting Oh, oh, for you and I