He rode His wagon into town A gaudy spectacle And every gray November brought Him there Always entertaining, prestidigitating Pulling rabbits from thin air

He would wave His Magic Wand
He would say the Magic Words
Working up a miracle, puttin? on a show
Changing what I thought to be
Unchangeable reality
Wish I had a Magic Wand of my own

Now twenty-three Novembers later The prestidigitator Still holds a power in my mind ?Cause I?d like a quick and easy way To look inside and make a change A Magic Wand would do me fine

I would wave my Magic Wand
I would say the Magic Words
Working up a miracle, puttin? on a show
Changing what I thought to be
Unchangeable reality
If I had a Magic Wand of my own

I would wave it over me and over you And over all this crazy world And make it right
Oh and there?s so much I?d change
If I could take the easy way

I would wave my Magic Wand
I would say the Magic Words
Working up a miracle, puttin? on a show
Changing what I thought to be
Unchangeable reality

I would wave my Magic Wand
I would say the Magic Words
Working up a miracle, puttin? on a show
Changing what I thought to be
Unchangeable reality
If I had a Magic Wand of my own

The only way to really change Is simple choices everyday Obey the Spirit whisper in my soul With the help of God, a little time Can change a heart, renew a mind

Without a Magic Wand, He?ll work a miracle Without a Magic Wand, He?ll work a miracle Without a Magic Wand, He?ll work a miracle
