

Every Time I See You

Chris Trapper

The rollercoasters blew me away
I get my spills from riding the waves
And I didn't think of you once today
Except when I heard that song

My friends won't dare to mention your name
They say to let the ghost of you fade away
So I read my book in a crowded cafe
And there was nothing wrong

'til in you walked from the outside world
Too busy now to try
'cause everytime I see you
Everytime I see you
Everytime I see you I want to cry cry cry

Angela how are you today
I'm glad to hear the party was great
Still of course I know you can't wait to go overseas
Me I'm fine I'm just taking a break
From fly by romance that always ends too late
You know I hate to keep you waiting for my poor sake

So back you go to the outside world
I couldn't look you in your eyes
'cause everytime I see you
Everytime I see you
Everytime I see you I want to cry cry cry

And back you go to the outside world
Too busy now to try
And everytime I see you
Everytime I see you
Everytime I see you I want to cry cry cry
