

Yearning To Be Burning

Chris Trapper

Take me out tonight
I want to forget about the fight I had
Last night I only learned nobody wins
I want to drink I want to dance
I want some meaningless romance
I want to wonder who's bed my heart's racing in

We are yearning to be burning
Like a whisper to a scream
We are lovers undiscovered
Out of time and in between

I crave uncomplicated all I'm getting is frustrated
With my job my place the shoes I'm stading in
I want to drive all over town
And roll all of the windows down
So I can feel the cold air crash against my skin

We are yearning to be burning
Like a whisper to a scream
We are pennies in the fountain
Gonna drown before we gleam

Studying the exit sign
Pining on a drink or three
Someone come and take me from the lost soul party

I met you in September
You're a stranger by November
And I hope I never see your ghost again
But until then I'll always wonder
Why the bridges I drive under
All remind me of some accidental friend

We are yearning to be burning
Like a whisper to a scream
We are lovers undiscovered
Out of time and in between
