

Invincible

Christian Bautista

I don't have nerves of steel
I have a heart that feels
I may have cried a million
Tears but I won't drown
I let myself unfold
Gave you my hand to hold
You took me beyond where
I could see
And then you let go of me

I was damaged by the fall
Got the wind knocked out of me
To be standing here at all
I must be invincible
I thought that I would break
But now I have come to see
Something strong and beautiful
Inside of me
I must be invincible

I don't have X-rays eyes
Don't have a heart so wise
How could I have known
You'd let me down
If I had known that then
My eyes were wide open
I still believe I would've risked it
There's no way I would've missed it

I was damaged by the fall
Got the wind knocked out of me
To be standing here at all
I must be invincible
I thought that I would break
But now I have come to see
Something strong and beautiful
Inside of me
I must be invincible

Hey yeah yeah... it's a blessing and a curse
Hey yeah yeah... But you find out just What you're worth.

I was damaged by the fall
Got the wind knocked out of me
To be standing here at all
I must be invincible

I thought that I would break
But now I have come to see
Something strong and beautiful
Inside of me
(I must be invincible x8)
