

All The Time

Christian Linke

Blaming me all day and night, I tell you
Never wanted to be in your life
I wonder what's the story line of all this
Do us a favour turn back the time, the time

You're telling me it was the time to move on
And leaving all of me behind, behind
All your words are such as life but now it's you
Talking for your dear life

All the time you didn't care
All the time I couldn't dare
All the time I knew of your affair

All the time you didn't care
All the time I couldn't dare
All the time I knew of your affair

For clarity we need to talk, and you know that
No conversation, just back talk, a back talk
In affection lies bounce off, and I'm certain
There's your chance to grow up

All the time you didn't care
All the time I couldn't dare
All the time I knew of your affair

All the time you didn't care
All the time I couldn't dare
All the time I knew of your affair