

No Tomorrow

Christian Linke

I am keeping what you gave me
Lots of scars from that scenery
All the memories fade
But that won't just disappear
That would need amnesty
Not just chaos was in the past
Our relation supposed to last
Just decisions you made
You wanted a restart a complete new world, a place

No tomorrow for me without breaking in Night and day pass me by, I am giving in Can't get back to the place I am living in My world is falling apart

So I tried to save what was lost
Tried to save it at any cost
Though times running away
I keep up the past to remember and to allay
I start to forget the hope
Force me to face my antipole
It's all dying away
Wherever I'm going I don't think I will stay

No tomorrow for you without breaking in
Night and day pass you by, you are giving in
Can't get back to the place you were living in
Your world is falling apart

(No tomorrow, tomorrow...)

No tomorrow for you without breaking in
Night and day pass you by, you are giving in
Can't get back to the place you were living in
Your world is falling apart

Your arms fighting your face is all dull and blood
All your shadows are gone you're just so obscured
What is yet to come
this is my own rebirth
Your world is falling apart
Your world is falling apart
