

One Time

Christian Walz

You're getting ready putting make up on your sexy face an you look damned surprised when wine falls to the floor for no reason at all I wait a little longer as you feel it growing stronger when I'm by your side What if, I had a chance to get down for some more
Do we have to be apart
Is this meant to break my heart

One time and never mind
I waste a little heaven on where I belong
Gonna do it somehow
One time and never mind
I sacrifice my glory not to be alone
I belive it somehow

The future in our past time is the prescence of our last time
You were by my side
What if I, I would have stayed...
Baby, Open the doors..
Do we have to be apart
This could mend my broken heart.

One time and never mind
I waste a little heaven on where I belong
Gonna do it somehow
One time and never mind
I belive it somehow
