

In Your Embrace

Guldbrandsen, Christine

The winterwind
Came in from the north
And I could feel a change
She was whispering the worlds I heard
Oh, it was strange
So I got up and walked
Towards where there was a sound
You greet me with a smile so bright
Like someone I've known
Since ages ago
And there is no one here like you
No one to love me like you do
And there is little I won't do
To keep you coming through
And when you go away
I only want to stay
In your embrace
These traces of scarlet
You left upon my skin
A symbol of the red red rose
I have within
And there is no one here like you
No one to love me like you do
And there is little I won't do
To keep you coming through
And when you go away
I only want to stay
In your embrace
And there is no one here like you
No one to love me like you do
And there is little I won't do
To keep you coming through
And when you go away
I only want to stay
In your embrace
