

Avalanche

Christopher

Everything I said to you
Was to make you feel okay
And I can't tell for how long I'm gonna stay
All I ever tried to be
Was someone that you could trust
But all the dreams that we had they turned into dust

The ground beneath my feet is shaking
The sky above is breaking
And everything is fading, fading out

And there's nothing that I can say
That will make you change your way
Cause I really don't stand a chance
Against an avalanche
And there's nothing that I can do
I can't fight for me and you
It's out of my hands
Cause you're an avalanche

Everything I've said so far
Was for you to stay with me
But I can't hold you no more cause I don't believe

The ground beneath my feet is shaking
The sky above is breaking
And everything is fading, fading out

And there's nothing that I can say
That will make you change your way
Cause I really don't stand a chance
Against an avalanche
And there's nothing that I can do
I can't fight for me and you
It's out of my hands
Cause you're an avalanche
You're an avalanche

Now that we're done, now that I'm gone
I can see clear, I've waited too long
You're a volcano ready to blow
I should have done this a long time ago

And there's nothing that I can say
That will make you change your way
Cause I really don't stand a chance
Against an avalanche
Against an avalanche

And there's nothing that I can say
That will make you change your way
Cause I really don't stand a chance
Against an avalanche
And there's nothing that I can do
I can't fight for me and you
It's out of my hands
Cause you're an avalanche

And there's nothing that I can say
That will make you change your way
Cause I really don't stand a chance
Against an avalanche
And there's nothing that I can do
I can't fight for me and you
It's out of my hands
Against an avalanche