

The Least We Can Do

Christy Moore

The least we can do,
is make the world a better place Not just for the few, but for the human race
To end wars and quarrels, make John Lennon's dream come true
To build a new set of morals,
It's the least we can do.
Show some love and compassion, when people are feeling low Make it not just a fashion, that may come and go Bring an end to oppression,
'cos it imprisons the truth
And be free with expression,
It's the least we can do.
So follow his rainbow, deep into the evening sun
And pray that It's colours, will blend together as one Seek and we may find, the dream he loved to pursue A peace for all mankind,
it's the least we can do
