

Confessions Of A Hero

Chromium

And I keep on falling back into the place I know
Searching high and low
And I keep on dreaming of the time that I once knew
Forever holding on

I will never be satisfied
Until I live my dream
It will never be justified
Until I make the world scream

Now it came back to me as it always seemed to do
I stole that part of you
And I'm waking from this suddenly the pain is gone
And now I am one

I will never be satisfied
Until I live my dream
It will never be justified
Until I make the world scream

Hear your voices
I wanna hear your voices now
Come on and make your choices
I wanna hear your voices proud

And it all comes to me as it's all that I see
And you look to my face as you fall out of place
And it all comes to you as you know it's the truth
And you look to my face as you fall from this place

I can never live...
I can not forgive...
