Inner Demons

Chromium

Take a look at the world surrounding you Is it all you hoped for?
Dissapear, hide it all, they never knew Your inner demons before

Why does it always have seem to be this way It always ends the same

Take a step back and see the truth of it You wanted more Loosing grip, falling into your abyss Your inner demons implore

Why does it always have seem to be this way It always ends the same

I will not give in
I will not back down
My life to begin
Was lost now I am found

Why does it always have seem to be this way It always ends the same

I will give everything to make a change But will it end the same?
