Run Around

Chuck Berry

Lord knows that I love you, why can't we get along ? Lord knows that I love you, why can't we get along ? You don't have to run around, doin' things you know is wrong I'll do anything in this world to please you, but I won't let y ou run around I'll do anything to please you darlin', but I won't let you run around Last time I held on to you, this time I might put you down So long, so long baby, there's no future for me and you So long pretty baby, no future for me and you I love you too much to let you run around the way you do
