Love's Sweet Name

Cindy Morgan

The tide washes me home From sorrow's painful shore And floods my soul And makes me whole The peaceful autumn rain The sound of love's refrain That drowns my sin Fills me again With love's sweet name The saviors warm embrace The arms so full of grace That never change That bear my pain In love's sweet name Midnight calling in my fragile ear Like moving shadows Following me hear But I'm saved So 'till by journeys end I've found a faithful friend 'Tis but a taste of what awaits In love's sweet name
