

We Can Live Together

Cindy Morgan

Out on the edge of never
Standing alone
Afraid that the answers we question
Will turn us to stone
Estranged to a world we once knew
Who's wrong who is right
Oh Lord shine the hope shine the way
To go beyond, the pain, tonight
This world may never be
A place where all pain is severed
But there will be a day when
We can live together
We can live together
I see there's a land of plenty
A land of despair
Enslaved by the hands of a master
That leads to nowhere
One man in a robe of perfection
Gave grace of His own
Look into your own reflection
Before you cast a stone
Think twice before you cast the stone
This world may never be
A place where all pain is severed
But there will be a day when
We can live together
We can live together
Hope, I believe in a day
When peace will shine down on our sorrow
Hope in the heaven that waits, tomorrow, yeah-yeah

Oh Lord please bring a day when
We can live together
This world may never be
A place where all pain is severed
But there will be a day when
We can live together
We can live together
This world may never be
A place where all pain is severed
But there will be a day when
We can live together
We can live together
This world may never be
A place where all pain is severed
But there will be a day when
We can live together
We can live together
This world may never be
But there will be a day when
We can live together
We can live together
