

"It's 7X" and that's all that they'll say about Coke
And you're just as circumspect and I didn't mean that as a joke

Because I know everybody's got a secret deep inside
But you, oh you must be quite unique, the things you hide

You told me that you wanted to escape, so I stayed Right here on my own, and thought about those vows we made

But now, I'm feeling totally perplexed, what did I do wrong?
Well how do I work out what comes next, do I play along?

When you say you hardly know me
And all that kind of stuff
You say that you don't owe me
But you're not telling me enough
And I don't want to seem unreasonable but I'd just like to know when
You are going to speak to me again

If you won't talk, how am I supposed to understand?
Say anything at all, I'd just like to know what you've got planned

Because now, I'm feeling totally perplexed, what did I do wrong?
Well how do I work out what comes next, do I play along?

When you say you hardly know me
And all that kind of stuff
You say that you don't owe me
But you're not telling me enough
And I don't want to seem unreasonable but I'd just like to know
when
You are going to speak to me again

When you say you hardly know me
And all that kind of stuff
You say that you don't owe me
But you're not telling me enough
And I don't want to seem unreasonable but I'd just like to know
when
You are going to speak to me again