Circa Survive

Make your move obvious humor desperate and respiratory plight always on dressed to impress I'll be the last one to find out why

Time takes its toll on us
this changes everything
I'd be a liar if i denied you at all
Oh, Now that I know
this changes everything

I've been trading ideas with intriguing men and I I perceive an honest solution to all of your pride

id be a liar if i denied you at all
Oh, now that I know

Oh, now that I know
Oh, now that i know

And the amplifier screams out loud for the last time wave your hands at the audience as you sink on in last chance to hide you need desperately so find me so

Motion gives up on you in the end I'll try my best to be home by then you'll see the grace we had she'll never have you'll never have

I'm going home but my own way
going home on my own
I'm going home but my own way
going home on my own

I would really love if you'd sit him down
(i would really love if you'd sit him down)
I would really love if you'd pull this thread
