

Victim of the Night

Circle II Circle

Stalking like a monster
In the desperate moonlight
There's a break inside the dawn
A window to your mind
Inside your reign of darkness
They go about their lives
You hold the key to life and death
Revolving doors decide

It is there you will appear
On the trail of blood tears

All the wounds inside they echo in the dark
All the secrets they are tearing you apart
In the perfect stranger's eyes as cold as stone
In a world of danger never walk alone

It's the evolution
In sickness you will hide
There's no sense of reason
In the black of your disguise
For the execution
The perfect way to die
There is no confusion
You've been here so many times

Do your killing on the run
No mercy for anyone

All the wounds inside they echo in the dark
All the secrets they are tearing you apart
In the perfect stranger's eyes as cold as stone
In a world of danger never walk alone
After all this time you're running from the light
In the face you see reflections of your life
It's the sign of darkness that you hold inside
After all you're just a victim of the night

All the wounds inside they echo in the dark
All the secrets they are tearing you apart
In the perfect stranger's eyes as cold as stone
In a world of danger never walk alone
After all this light you've stolen in the night
Still they haunt you with the echoes of their cries
Somewhere in the dark it makes you come alive
After all you're just a victim of the night
