

Hang Out

City Lights

(Now listen up)

She swears she's 21 as she walks through the door.
Every time she arrives,
Heads turn and jaws drop to the floor.
I've seen this happen, what?
Like a hundred times. (a hundred times)

She leaves a heart, torn apart
On the dance floor almost every night.

1, 2, 3, 4!
Even if I had the chance,
I wouldn't take it.
And if she asked me to talk,
You know I wouldn't make a sound.
Because...

Oh-wee-oh! (Oh!)
This is how it goes.
When she takes the words I say and twist them around.
I know it's just a game
That we both like to play,
But at the end of the day,
I think I'd rather go hang out with my friends.

It's been a couple months since I walked out the door.
Every time, that she lied,
I still kept crawling back for more.
I've learned my lesson.
Now, this is the last time. (this is the last time)
She'll leave this boy, torn apart
On the dance floor,
You can see it in his eyes.

Even if I had the chance,
I wouldn't take it.
And if she asked me to talk,
You know I wouldn't make a sound.

Oh-wee-oh! (Oh!)
This is how it goes.
When she takes the words I say and twist them around.
I know it's just a game
That we both like to play,
But at the end of the day,
I think I'd rather go hang out with my friends.
With my friends.

I wish I could take back
Every moment that I spent with you.
Every moment,
That I wasted on you.

Oh!
Oh-wee-oh! (Oh!)
This is how it goes.

When she takes the words I say and twist them around.
I know it's just a game
That we both like to play,
But at the end of the day,
I think I'd rather go hang out with my friends.

Oh-wee-oh!
I'd rather go hang out with my friends.
Oh-wee-oh!
I'd rather go hang out with my friends.
Oh-wee-oh!
I'd rather go hang out with my friends.
Oh-wee-oh!
I'd rather go hang out with my friends.
