

I met love on the gravel road
While I was walking alone
She was so gentle and sweet
Kissed my hands, kissed my feet

She poured me a glass of deep red wine
To numb my feet and ease my mind
I fell asleep in her arms
When I awoke she was gone

I didn't even notice
That something was wrong
I didn't even notice
That my heart had been stolen

Who is this thief in the night?
Steals my strength, robs my might
She left me, a blind wanderer
With no words to speak or ponder

And I didn't even notice
Anything was wrong
I didn't even notice
That my heart had been stolen

I will search the land and sea
To find this girl who stole from me
And when I do I'll tell her
She can keep that old heart of mine

'Cause I didn't even notice
Anything was wrong
I didn't even notice
That my heart had been stolen
