

Surrender

Civil Twilight

They lay on the fake grass
Looking up at the fake sky
They held each other's fake hands
And they kissed but their lips were dry
All the passion in the universe
Couldn't keep them together

He was made of earth and fire
She was made of water
Their love will never be free
Not until they surrender

The clouds, the moon
They sighed as they looked down on these figures
Clinging to each other yet so unsatisfied

He was made of earth and fire
She was made of water
Their love will never be free
Not until they surrender

Something's breaking through the atmosphere
How do you explain this fear
That drowns my heart in yours
In you

He was made of earth and fire
She was made of water
Their love will never be free
Not until they surrender
