You filled my heatt with love It will never break apart Miracle in my eyes Time is running wild You know I have lost my way You know I have got to say Days like barrIcades have come to an end A new day has begun A new day shines like the sun You give me songs to sing You give me dreams to dream All I ever wanted I find here with you Forget the world is the world Forget the world is in pain Somehow it got out of hand Somehow I don't comprehend A new day has begun A new day shines like the sun Your lips are sweet It's all I need from life Love makes angels of us all I thought I would never meet a girl like you I know I will never let you go I will never let this go A new day has begun A new day shines like the sun
