

Eternally

Clan of Xymox

I haven't seen you all these years and now you appear Out of the blue it seems but you knew I was here To find out where things went wrong to find out how the dice did roll

We share the distance where we are now, internally We talked it over but it s nowhere in poetry

Way after midnight
I recalled it all Years which had disappeared in one big black hole Once upon a time in love
Once done, twice gone

Love in a nutshell which is gone now, eternally Dropped like a bombshell in my hometown internally, eternally.
