Here I lie awake again , Rise and shine Some things will never change I bide my time Weekends spent in solitude I am feeling down I love you to death You make me lose my head I love you to death You make me lose my head I've seen nothing of you yet I 'm wanting to forget I've seen nothing of you yet I 'm wanting to forget Seen nothing of you yet I 'm wanting to forgetHere it comes in waves again It's gaining ground It's more than I can ever bear It's weighing down Your absence here surrounds me now It burns inside You're born to guide me Say what you want I am born to love you Do what you want You're born to guide me Say what you want I 'm born to love you Do what you want You come inside You make it right You are the light When you come inside
