

Love Got Lost

Clan of Xymox

Love got lost along the way
No matter what you might say
Life goes on no matter what
You, yourself is all you got

You reap what you sow
You see what you know
She never wanted such a close
But didn't want you to know
The smell of love upon her skin
The time to pick up all her things
All emotions felt within

This time you pushed too far
All you touch you tear apart
This time you pushed too far
All you touch you tear apart

Dressed to kill I watched her glow
Come what may I watched her grow
Excuses made and never caught
True blue is all you thought
Flowers fade and so does love
This bed of roses turned to dust
On pins and needles she adjusts

This time you pushed too far
All you touch you tear apart
Weep now or never more
Let her walk out the door
Don't cry for evermore
Don't cry for evermore
