

You're Electric

Clare Maguire

Lately I've been facing a fall
Holding onto something that means nothing but war
I've been cutting connections
Causing the walls
To build up around me
And faces to fade
Into blue blue colours
I walk in shallow waters

Should have gone my own way
But I didn't run just to hide
I ran for a better life
For a better life

You're electric
You know you light up my world when it's hard to take
So let's run away
Although I know you're electric
I know that lightening won't strike twice in the same place
So let's run away

I want you to know this love
I don't regret what we've done
Or who we are
No need to look for protection

Should have gone my own way
But I didn't run just to hide
I ran for a better life
For a better life

You're electric
You know you light up my world when it's hard to take
So let's run away
Although I know you're electric
I know that lightening won't strike twice in the same place
So let's run away

I would fly but you're standing here
Fixing my broken wings
Try to mend try to mend
This mess I'm in

You're electric
You know you light up my world when it's hard to take
So let's run away
Although I know you're electric
I know that lightening won't strike twice in the same place
So let's run away

You're electric you light up my world when it's hard to take
So let's run away
