

Runnin Back

Claude Kelly

You know, I let you get away with far too much
I never said a thing when you was comin' home after the sun came up
And I never complained at all when chicks you used to mess with was still callin' your phone
I kept it all inside and I let you think that you was fooling me
I was down to ride cause that's how I thought a chick was supposed to be

[Bridge:]

Maybe it's you
Maybe it's me
Maybe you and I was never meant to be
But you got to choose
It's her or it's me
But ain't no coming back if you choose to leave

[Chorus:]

If you want to go, baby you can go
But there ain't gon' be no running back
If you wanna leave, baby you can leave
But there ain't gon' be no running back
When your new girl can't do it right
You gon wish that you could get with me one more time
So go but you should know
There ain't gon' be no running back

Now I never questioned you
When I smelled another girl's perfume up on your clothes
And I never brought it up when you were driving her around town in the car that I owned
To the back of my mind it all went,
Told myself it's okay cause I know in the end we'll be together
But that was a lie, I opened my eyes
And I'll never be deceived again [?]

[Bridge:]

Maybe it's you
Maybe it's me
Maybe you and I was never meant to be
But you got to choose
It's her or it's me
But ain't no coming back if you choose to leave

[Chorus:]

If you want to go, baby you can go
But there ain't gon' be no running back
If you wanna leave, baby you can leave
But there ain't gon' be no running back
When your new girl can't do it right
You gon wish that you could get with me one more time
So go but you should know
There ain't gon' be no running back

Far too long I've tried to hope for the best
Ignore the signs but
If you leave, that's that
There won't be no running back
Far too long I've tried to put it in the back of my mind

But if you leave, that's that
There won't be no running back

[Chorus:]

If you want to go, baby you can go
But there ain't gon' be no running back
If you wanna leave, baby you can leave
But there ain't gon' be no running back
When your new girl can't do it right
You gon wish that you could get with me one more time
So go but you should know
There ain't gon' be no running back
