It's Good To Have My Baby

Claude King

I can wait for the train to come in sight cause my baby's comin home tonight

I'll be standing in this rain and I'll meet the midnight train That will bring my baby home tonight

I can hear a whistle down the line Mr Engeneer be on time It's so cold in this rain but my baby's on your train

It'll be good to have my baby home tonight

I can see her stepping out the door I can wait to kiss her lips once more

But who is that man that is holding her hand And says it's good to have my baby home tonight Oh yes it's good to have my baby home tonight I know it's good to have my baby home tonight
