

Little Baby

Clawfinger

You're my little baby there's nothing to be scared off I promise be safe right here with me you don't have to cry now just keep a little secret you never know where Daddy hides the keys just I wanna tell you if you don't try to find them then I promise you it won't hurt you know you can trust me so move a little closer and let me put my hand under you skirt

I just wanna touch you sneaken down beside you fill a softness of your perfect skin don't fell bad about it I promise you it's normal 'cause loving you could never be a sin don't you talk about it 'cause no one will believe you they say that's one of your bad dreams and Mommy isn't home now it's no one to disturb us so nobody know where's Daddy been
