

A Thousand Days

Clay Aiken

Through my eyes
I have seen the world start spinning like a ball
Stars light up and then fall for you
So then what's a man like me supposed to do?
If I gave you the moon, would you notice
That I'm right beside you?

Well, now a thousand days and thousand nights are not enough
'Cause I can't hold back the way I feel about my love
Won't let it go, won't let it go

And if the angels came, I'd fight them back to win your soul
And when everything was said and done
They'd go back home
And they ought to know, they ought to know
That you're mine, all mine

In my world
You're the sun that shines and lights up the evening skies
Clearing up the horizon, hold on
Come with me, and I will never let you down
Oh, and in this love we'll drown, this I promise you
'Cause they can't hold us down

Well, now a thousand days and thousand nights are not enough
'Cause I can't hold back the way I feel about my love
Won't let it go, won't let it go

And if the angels came, I'd fight them back to win your soul
And when everything was said and done, they'd go back home
And they ought to know, they ought to know
That you're mine all mine

I would do anything, just believe it
Your love means everything, and I need it
Your heart won't lie
Reach out for me

Well, now a thousand days and thousand nights are not enough
'Cause I can't hold back the way I feel about my love
Won't let it go, won't let it go
'Cause you're mine, all mine

And if the angels came, I'd fight them back to win your soul
And when everything was said and done, they'd go back home
They ought to know, they ought to know
That you're mine, all mine
