

You're My Witness

Clay Walker

Nobody but you has ever seen me cry
It's nothing but honesty between you and I
And we've shared moments and made memories
Without you, who would remember me

'Cause you're my witness in this life that I lead
Good and bad, you see everything
You're my witness, you know all there is to know
The inside of my heart to the center of my soul
We took love where it's never been before
You're my witness and I'm yours

Every day we write another page
We end another chapter time cannot erase
All the years, the pictures in our minds
I see your life and you see mine

'Cause you're my witness in this life that I lead
Good and bad, you see everything
You're my witness, you know all there is to know
The inside of my heart to the center of my soul
We took love where it's never been before
You're my witness and I'm yours

Standing here, I can look you in the eye
And without a question I can testify

You're my witness in this life that I lead
Good and bad, you see everything
And we took love, love where it's never been before
You're my witness and I'm yours
You're my witness and I'm yours
