Nightingale

Clean Bandit

I've been thinking about you lately
I can't get you out of my mind
I am trying to get to you know you baby let's start there by what's your name

So many things I want to tell you so many things I want to share
I can't wait till the day you come back so we can then exchange words

If I were a nightingale
If I were a nightingale

I've been thinking about you lately
I can't get you out of my mind
I am trying to get to you know you baby
let's start there by what's your name (by what's your name x4)

So many things I want to tell you
so many things I want to share
I can't wait till the day you come back

So many things I want to tell you
so many things I want to share
I can't wait till the day you come back
