

God Answers Back

Clem Snide

You better pray you never wake up
To find your dreams have all come true
Cause if you get everything you hope for
Then I will have to punish you

I need you just as much as you need me
And the flower-loving bees
Your blood will color every sunset
Your tears will help me grow some trees

Here is my joke, the thunder's laughing
Here is my word to lighten the day
Try to forget yourself, remember
Your broken heart will lead the way