Hum

Clem Snide

I know that not everyone will die But no one is promised they'll live See it's broken but will not be separate Without getting blood on the leaves

You're hungry
Like a thousand starving dogs
[Incomprehensible] to avoid

See I wanted, I wanted
My finger tips are numb
And I hear a strange distant hum

The lonely man that payed to see her Perched upon the leafless tree The colors were as vivid as a dream

Upon their heart, she left a scar Sudden selves for what they are They begged her for a change just to forget
