Tiny European Cars

Tiny European cars Are dropping from the sky They're wonderfully efficient Engines fueled by Spanish wine

Maybe just a sip To help us get a grip Did you know Isaac Newton Was a virgin when he died

A hundred thousand naked woman Running on the beach In such a state of wild abandon They ignore my speech

About the overt flow A dangerous undertow And how there is a hole so deep It swallows up the sun

Oh, the smoke seems sweet to me Must be a perfume factory Just one of many ancient travesties We're all descendants of the pharisees

Tiny European cars Are bouncing off my shins If you've never seen a bull fight Guess who always wins

To grab it by the horns Its life like censored porn Did you know they sing Ring-Around the Rosie when you die
