

I Love

Cliff Richard

I love the English sky after long summer days
I like to run through the field when they been shaking hay
Love meeting people that I've never met before
And I like it when my friends come knocking at my door

I love the sky at night just to sit counting stars
I like to mess around with bicycles and cars
Love to see the moon when its up and full
And I like it when a fish gives my line a pull

So it's easy to see just how good you been to me
You made life's mystery an open book for all to see

I love stone ground bread and I like when I get my breakfast in bed
I love little old ladies who make funny faces at brand new babies

I love sudduties comet, I love to break bread, I get a blessing from it
And I love to see a bible that's been well used...
Coz when a bibles well used the devils not amused

So it's easy to see just how good you been to me
You made life's mystery an open book for all to see
