Never Let Go

Cliff Richard

I've had my chances, too many nights All these broken dreams, they're just drifting away But I'd do it all again, just to hear, hear you say

Never let never let you go I will never let never let you go I will never let never let you go

Everyone tells me I'm a fool to myself But I never listen to a word that they say 'Cause I've heard it a million times before And I'd give everything away if you will say

Never let never let you go I will never let never let you go I will never let never let you go

Never ever let Tell me that you'll never let you go Say you'll not leave me baby

Never let Never ever let you go I will never let Never let you go
