

Our Love Could Be So Real

Cliff Richard

I know that our love could really grow
And I feel, that our love could have been real.
You and I, could go right on believing
Love is here, and I'm not leaving your side
Why cant you and I, go right on pretending
That we were never ending supply of love
What's the use you say? In a make belive romance
When just a single glance gives the game away
I can tell, cause I know you so well
You're leaving still I feel, that our love could have been real
Why can't you and I go right on pretending
That we were never ending supply of love
What's the use you say in a make belive romance
when just a single glance give's the game away
I can tell cause I know you so well
You're leaving still I feel that our love could have been real.
