

Stranger In Town

Cliff Richard

Every girl is a beautiful girl,
When you're a stranger in town.
And every chick looks so cute and slick,
When you're all alone and all down.

And then a smile will open the door
And in a little while, you'll be a stranger no more.
But till then, every girl is a beautiful girl,
When you're a stranger, in many towns.

And then a smile will open the door
And in a little while, you'll be a stranger no more.
But till then, every girl is a beautiful girl,
When you're a stranger, your heart is in danger,
When you're a stranger in town.
