

You Got Me Wondering

Cliff Richard

Gave us life for the living
And love for the giving
So thanks for the making
It's nice partaking

Now you got me wondering how it all began
My imagination fails to perceive
A million different questions fail to get an answer
I think that's why I'll always believe

As we go through this life
We'll ask you once or twice
Was all this your making
Sleep, dreaming, waking

Sweet is the sound of your voice
Singing your song
Leaving my questions undone
Oh you get me wondering

Now you got me wondering how it all began
My imagination fails to perceive
A million different questions fail to get an answer
I think that's why I'll always believe

Now you got me wondering how it all began
My imagination fails to perceive
A million different questions fail to get an answer
I think that's why I'll always believe