

Winter here came so luscious, winter here and the snows
You're wanting and waiting forever, wanting to feel home
So what on earth in all the world has happened to this here
As in your world, you can repair and will get back home again
You'll get back home again

Can you see all the cards here, can you see how its done
Fingers deceive forever, fingers know the codes
So what on earth in all the world has happened to this here
As in your world you can repair and will get back home again
You'll get back home again

So what on earth in all the world has happened to this here
As in your world you can repair and will get back home again
You'll get back home again
