Closterkeller

I felt a kiss of my God and now I know
Kisses like that turns me to stone
I felt a kiss on my forehead, now I know
Kisses like that freeze me to death

Holy war, holy war pushing hell away
It makes me quiet, lets me lay down
They fight a war for me and every man
Brings me closer to heaven by his death

Hey Allah...

They felt a kiss of their God
And now they know
Kisses like that turn them to stone
They felt a kiss on their forehead
Now they know
Kisses like that freeze to death
And paradise is the only reward
I wait there....
