

Internal World

Cloud Nothings

Say what you are to anyone
And you reveal you're weak, here
Where would you go to lose all your angles?
How would you make it complete?

You nullify and cut em off
But utilize the brain, hey
Who would you follow
Any way they wanted
If at the end you'd be free?

And if it looks like mine anymore
Internal world, the one worth living
But if it looks like mine anymore
Internal world, the one worth living
But if it looks like mine anymore
Internal world, the one worth living
But if it looks like mine anymore
Internal world, the one worth living

But I'm not the one who's always right
I'm not the one who's always right
I'm not the one who's always right
I'm not the one who's always right

Nobody is an enemy
 Nobody's just one hair, here
 Where would you go to lose all your angles?
 How would you make it complete?

You have a face for everyone
You have a face for me, yeah
Who would you follow
Any way they wanted
If at the end you'd be free?

And if it looks like mine anymore
Internal world, the one worth living
But if it looks like mine anymore
Internal world, the one worth living
But if it looks like mine anymore
Internal world, the one worth living
But if it looks like mine anymore
Internal world, the one worth living

But I'm not the one who's always right
I'm not the one who's always right
I'm not the one who's always right
I'm not the one who's always right

[illegible]

I'm not the one who's always right
