

Eyes open wide
no one sees the world like it is so many lies, corrupted everything's a matter of fact

We're ego-minded humans we claim we strive for justice the bottom line is different it's all about winning in the end

There's no justice
no compassion
who care's if someone's falling
so much hatred
lying faces
in this game we play
no one caring
no one sharing
all true love's in the mirror human's lying
and denying
that we're fooled by innocence

...Justice

Jealous minds
smile at others failures
grand success
increasing poisoned words it's all in vain
begging for understanding the game we play
a charade of our existence

There's no justice
no compassion
lying faces
in this game we play
no one sharing
human's lying
and denying
that we're fooled by...?
