

One Silent Moment

Cloudscape

A misty evening
One silent moment
A candle burning
Two innocent souls shared their love
Suspicious feelings
A feel of wonders
The nightly wind breeze suddenly
Turned to fear and chaos

A call for mercy
No understanding
Freedom's a memory
Still jailed with no guilt
A woman's crying
When soldiers coming
Her will to stop this
A hopeless feeling

She's left behind
The curtain fell down
She cried out his name
So many questions
Yet to be answered
Empty surroundings

Crying, calling
Faded lights and shadows
She was praying, begging
Mercy will be shown

Remembering the days
When love showed the way
Through hard times and misery
Suddenly alone... wondering why

Alive but in what shape
Locked in a cold grey cell
Her face was on his mind
Tried so hard to convince he's innocent

She's left behind
The curtain fell down
She cried out his name
So many questions
Yet to be answered

Crying, calling
Faded lights and shadows
She was praying, begging
Mercy will be shown

Crying, calling
Faded lights and shadows
Praying, calling his name...