

Gnome Enthusiast

Clutch

Sun eyed dandelion
Seen you garden gnomes gone pass by
Small one wear a pointy red hat
The big one he just that he real fat

If you see them please tell them without delay
"You took my saffron now you got to pay", alright
Sunned dandelion, you say they got an airtight alibi?

Then how'd they get themselves them diamond rings?
You know well no gnomes don't make the good money

If you see them please tell them without delay
"You taked my saffron, now you got to pay", alright, sun eyed

What now, hey, hey, hey, your hair is turning gray
Is there something that you need to say?
Suspect, you're looking through and through
I'd take to the wind if I was you

Good bye saffron, know that you did good by me
'Til wicked weeded wild in my garden, alright
