Never again!

All my life it's been much the same game Altogether now who pass the blame game I'm not the one so don't put your shame on You're not the one that I put the blame on

There is nothing I would rather do then Get up and explain life to you friend There is nothing I would rather do then Get up and explain life to you

One step forward Two steps back Three steps forward, Go!

People want to come and take from me everything People want to come and leave me with nothing I'm not the one so don't put your shame on You're not the one that I put the blame on

There is nothing I would rather do then Get up and explain life to you friend There is nothing I would rather do then Get up and explain life to you

One step forward Two steps back Three steps forward, Go!

why do you hide So afraid of what you'll leave behind why do you hide So afraid of what you'll leave behind

One step forward Two steps back Three steps forward, Go!

One step forward Two steps back Three steps forward, Go!

Who put the blame on Who put the blame on Who put the blame on It wasn't my fault
