Cobra Skulls

So you come from the city you got big city money to spend, I don't want your big city money in my town my friend, you don't appreciate it you want to appropriate it, and make a profit turn

you heard it through the grapevine or read it in a magazine, you're living in a hell hole and somewhere far away has a national ranking and you start thinking
"How could they be wrong?"

Southern California
star where you are!
We don't want vacation homes and a garage for every car, you planted seeds in the desert you stole your water from afar, new Southern California stay where you are!

you had enough of the hustle and bustle that delivered you to success, but you need that Neiman Marcus and you can't go long without all the amenities that made it such a mess you want to bring it with you

look how you sprawl!
you're addicted to construction you will consume us all so if you want to make my town look like L.A. you might as well just stay right where you are
