

Worlds Apart

Cock Robin

No such thing, I'm sure you've mistaken me.
If I'm your man, then give a last embrace.
Wish me well or help me solve this mystery,
I've taken my fill and packed it all into one suitcase.
Any other life,
Any other way.

Don't you worry about me
Or try to change how things are.
You've got to believe
That we're just worlds apart.

Can't talk now, and silence is too much to bear.
No great loss, but everything to gain.
Here's your home, I can lay down anywhere.
As time goes on, it seems to me like a fair exchange.
Any other life.
Any other way.

Don't you worry about me
It's all gone much too far
You've got to believe
That we're just worlds apart.
